

Sunday.

Dear Caroline.

There was a board meeting here yesterday, for the purpose of appointing Louis Moody gent agent, vice, C K Whipple resigned to be an apothecary. After it was over Francis Shea went into my ear that Hollis St Church had proposed to Ephraim Peabody, pretending to think he would meet their opinions; whereupon Francis & Sam. May senior had protested, & how they wanted to get something positively pro-slavery or prejudicial, again Peabody, & Francis wished me to write to you & get any substantial fact in proof, as speedily as possible.

I have written to England for last steamer, specifying the middle of November as the last steamer that could arrive in season, & have seen in the Irish newspapers, their advertisements to that effect. I wrote however, to Glasgow, & to E. Pease some note, begging them to advise for the rest of the United Kingdom.

 Mrs. Bevan's & the Sturge's box have already arrived - say a hundred dollars worth of most valuable things. We have recd lately, probably since Emma last wrote,

for Bill	{	from Mrs De Borne Adair Bullon
	{	[all excellent in their way.]	L. Mott Edmund Quincy Mrs. Kirkland (Clavise)
Money	{	Mrs Loring,	$ 10.00 how do you the which she writes to must at her house	25.00 from Mrs Byah White	25.00 of Marcus Spring	10.00 and Mrs Loring will also have a table, not she says of rare things, but of such as she hopes will sell & fill up.	promise of 10 more

Mrs White is going to send meats & fruit at the time of the Fair.

From Capt Moses, N. Orleans on Board Sch something, shipped 20th Nov. Richard Lipe, Master's bill of lading now in my hands, two barrels of Sugar. I gave him Lucia's newspaper novel to read on board, & otherwise kindly entreated him & shall take the credit of ~~one~~ barrel for my own civilities.

Mrs Linn has sent a pretty toy.

I am at work making a few things she tells me for Mrs Tolley Table. I passed Thursday & Friday nights at St. Proximus, & as they have 16 cases of small pox at Brock Linn, are going to be vaccinated over again immediately. Enclosed in brown paper, after suffumigation in vinegar steam & what not on my part, I send a letter from Mr. Lincoln, who, however has not been in the same house with the Sute, nor had any communication with them. Things seem to look well all round. Eliza thinks every body is making white mind to come to the fair as a duty.

Garrison's head for the bell is coming on well. E. Wright is rubbing hard against the Committee in the New paper - "The Free State rally," like a cat in a catnip garden. He is wretchedly poor, & is employed in pushing & marking to save him from starving, which gives him opportunity to stick up names & J. Smith's name at the head of the donations though Dr Jackson was the first man who paid a
